My Dad

My Dad is the hardest working person I know. He's a hard worker, caring, organised and thoughtful person and I'm going to tell you why.

Work ethic, my Dad is a hard worker he works all day on the farm then he comes home and looks after my brothers and I and if I do say myself, we are a hard bunch to look after. First I would like to tell you about his job my Dad is a Dairy farmer and he does a wide range of jobs such as getting the cows in, cleaning the cow shed, feeding the calves and much more, and if that's not hard enough he comes home and has to look after us, and before we get home he has to drive down a 6km road to pick me up at the bus stop then 6kms back to the house. He has to do that again after school, and the amazing thing is he rarely complains.

Second of all I would like to tell you about how my Dad is caring. He's already caring enough taking me to the bus stop in the morning, but he is working super hard to get our worker Rod into a new home I would like to walk you through what he has done. He has found a house in Hinds so he had it picked up and moved to our farm in Staveley then he hired someone to repaint inside then he hired people to instal lights, plumbing and has bought things for the house. When we are at school he will let the dogs of take them on the farm, move the guinea pigs hut, feed the pigs and feed the cat, he does this all because he cares.

Thirdly, my Dad is organised. His office is really clean, everything is set up nice and neat. He cleans up the shed, after he is done milking he will stay for around about 45 minutes after milking to clean up and if he sees any rubbish on the farm he will pick it up and put it in the bin. Also he knows when to leave to pick me up from the bus stop, he is usually always there on time.

Last of all thoughtfulness, Dad will always think of someone else, for example when my brother Sam was at hockey practise he took me to a basketball court and we had some shots because he knew I was bored. That is one example of many other kind and thoughtful acts he has done. If Mum is struggling with dinner Dad will go over and help her.

So my Dad is the most kind, hard working, organised and thoughtful person I know and he does this all because he cares about us.
