

Why my Mother means the world to me.

My mother is special to me and I am sure your mother's love you as well as you love them back. But in my opinion I love my mother just the way she is why is she you ask she cares for me, she is always a great listener, she is very motivated which is good so we get outdoors more, she is a very hard working woman. She always cares for her family and her friends, she listens and most of all she loves her children.

I think that when it comes to trusting someone you can always trust my mother, and I'll tell you why. She has a big heart which means she cares for the people around her. If you feel worried or you have a problem just talk to my mother, she will sort it out, she also tries to avoid life's problems.

My mother is always motivated which is good because we get to go outdoors more often than staying inside. My mother makes up the best games, last christmas we went to a river to have lunch and my mother just wanted to play badminton all day. I think my mother is good at sports, as well as she is great for caring for her children and others around her.

My mother loves her family and friends. she is always seeing her mother because they both work at the same place. My mother is a great listener, she never turns her back on you or to talk to someone else. Best of all that I love about her is that she loves her children and she always has time for them.

That is why my mother means the world to me. I think I am lucky to get such a great mother that is honest and motivated, don't forget outgoing and fun. She will always brighten up your day! I will always love my mother as my mother loves me back.
